Residents’ Feedback

Residents can raise and resolve issues in a confidential and protected manner. The channels whereby residents can feedback the concerns include:
- Feedback box in Residents’ Lounge (Main Building Level 3)
- E-Form on residency website

Residents can also approach Residents Welfare Subcom should you have any concerns. The Subcom can bring up these issues for discussion either at the monthly GMEC meeting or speak with the DIO directly.
Leave Application via Prosoft

- Please apply for all leave promptly via Prosoft for your HOD’s approval. The exception is the No-Pay leave and Volunteerism leave which have to be applied via submission of the “Leave of Absence” form. Approach your Program Coordinator for assistance if necessary.

- Maternity Leave (ML)
  - Doctors are to apply ML in Prosoft once you have confirmed your ML starting and ending dates.
  - Flexi-Maternity Leave will expire once your child turns one. Thus any balance of ML should be utilized before your child turns one.

- Child Care Leave and Family Care Leave can be applied as either 1 day or ½ day in Prosoft but is subjected to your HOD’s approval.
Residents should not be allowed to accompany faculty to work or operate in private sector institutions under their faculty practice as it is not part of residency training.
NUSNET Access for Residents

1] Click on the link http://www.lib.nus.edu.sg/nus/nuh/nuheresources.html to see the list of resources available.

2] Select the resource you are interested in, eg, Lippincott Williams & Wilkins Journals.
3] When the Login page appears, type in:

Username: NUHS e-mail address (E.g. John_Tan@nuhs.edu.sg)

Password: NUHS e-mail password

4] When you are directed to the AUP webpage, please read carefully and click 'I Accept'.

---

NUS Libraries E-Resources Appropriate Use Policy

You are reminded that the Copyright Act applies to the whole National University of Singapore Library collection. The usage of materials/information retrieved from the Digital Library Collection by users from the NUS must abide by the conditions set out in the Copyright Act.

These materials can be used for academic research, learning and teaching purposes only for yourself. Under no circumstances should the data be disseminated to another person or used for commercial purposes.

Violation of the Copyright Act is an offence in Singapore and the use of NUS facilities for illegal copying is a violation of NUS rules and regulations. The University takes a serious view of copyright infringement. Anyone found violating the Copyright Act may face disciplinary action.

Please note that this service will not be available between 5:00 am to 5:30 am (Singapore time) daily for maintenance.

If you have any problems accessing this service, please refer to the Frequently Asked Questions or contact Helpdesk.
NUSNET Access for Residents

5] The publisher’s site will be loaded as shown in the example on the right.